Data Loss Prevention – Protecting Navy Digital Information as Outlined by the DoD Zero Trust Initiative

Kyle Black

Security Strategist, Symantec Enterprise Division
Broadcom

Abstract:

This session will focus on how Data Loss Prevention (DLP) technology has evolved to be a critical and central component to the Zero Trust Architecture.

Understanding and protecting all data is a key outcome of adopting a Zero Trust architecture and during this talk we'll dig into how DLP can be deployed strategically to not only prevent data loss, but to enhance Data Governance overall and ultimately deliver Zero Trust in a way where the Navy can mature it's architecture over time.
